Annamalai University - A Profile

In the early 1920s, to serve the downtrodden, Rajah Sir S. R. M. Annamalai Chettiar founded Sri Minakshi College, Sri Minakshi Tamil College and Sri Minakshi Sanskrit College at Chidambaram. In 1928, Rajah Sir S. R. M. Annamalai Chettiar agreed with the local Government to handover the above said institution for establishing a University. Thus, on 01.01.1929 Annamalai University was established as per Annamalai University Act 1928 (Tamil Nadu Act 1 of 1929).

One of the most significant development is the enactment of the Annamalai University Act, 2013 (Tamil Nadu Act 20 of 2013), which has come into force from September 25, 2013, after obtaining the assent of His Excellency, the President of India. Annamalai University is accredited with 'A' Grade by NAAC in 2014. "The Times Higher Education World University Ranking - 2018" has ranked Annamalai University in 801 - 1000 for Overall category and 401 - 500 for Life Sciences category. "The CII", in its Report based on "Indian Citation Index" Database has ranked Annamalai University second among the Top 50 State Universities in Research Productivity: Ranking based on Articles, Citations and Citations / Paper."The Nielsen - India Today Ranking" (2017) has ranked Annamalai University 11th among the top 30 Universities in India. Among the top 100 institutions for Higher Education in India the "SCImago Institutional Ranking" (2016) has ranked Annamalai University as 4th in Tamil Nadu and 20th India.

Annamalai University is one of India's largest unitary, teaching, and residential universities in Southern Asia comprising of 10 Faculties and 49 divisions of study. The University has played a pivotal role in providing access to higher education to thousands of youth cutting across the social spectrum, especially from economically and socially disadvantaged classes. In this respect, this University's service to the nation is tremendous.

Division of Computer and information Science

The Division of Computer and Information Science was established in the year 2015 and it currently offers MCA, M.Sc. The Division is well equipped with computer and other infrastructure and administrative set-up to serve its students. The Division has more than 450 PG students, 14 M.Phil and more than 100 Ph.D scholars, and 44 well experienced, dedicated and qualified faculty members with various frontier areas of specializations like Digital Image Processing, Data Mining, Neural Network, Software Testing, Computer Networks and Network Security.

About FDP

Day to day tremendous amount of data can be found in all areas of human endeavour which leads to numerous, diverse and huge data store. Extracting hidden and meaningful knowledge embedded within the huge data store is very difficult and challenging issue. But, the process of exploiting proficient patterns can bring more efficiency to real world applications like prediction, classification, mining, etc. in various domains of all the disciplines. Keeping this in mind, the Faculty Development Programme (FDP) is designed to enrich the teaching, technical and research knowledge of faculties in the broad and hot spectrum of Pattern Recognition and its applications, and facilitate the cross disciplinary exchange of knowledge and ideas, and the participants is sure to be interest and gain an insight in the core and emerging areas of Pattern Recognition and its applications. The major topics to be discussed in the FDP are Pattern Recognition and Machine Learning.
